Nixle and CodeRED Together Equal an Informed County

At the present time the Calaveras County Sheriff's Office is using Nixle, a mass communications platform, to share alerts with residents around the County regarding emergency situations and other important events. Residents should be aware that no changes to the Nixle alert system are planned at this time.

Additionally, the Calaveras County IT Department has implemented the CodeRED system, a high-speed emergency notification service. This is an important tool for the County's emergency planning and communications outreach. The Public Safety agencies of Calaveras County will use CodeRED to keep the public notified in the event of an emergency. The County anticipates using the system to notify residents in specific geographic locations of fires, floods, public health emergencies, missing children alerts, and other public safety items. No one should automatically assume they are in the emergency contact database. All residents living within the County limits are encouraged to visit the Calaveras County web page at <http://Calaverasgov.us> and click on the CodeRED logo to enroll contact information, including cell phone numbers, text and email addresses.

Taken together, Nixle and CodeRED will effectively reach out to residents of Calaveras County to keep our community informed of important notifications.
